One more name was added yesterday to the list of men whose deaths have been caused by a stray current of electricity. As in many other cases yesterday's victim was a lineman. His name was John Devine, and he was employed by the Metropelitan Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Devine had been in the employ of the company for several years. He was a sober and pany for several years. He was a sober and industrious young fellow, and had the reputation of knowing his business thoroughly. He worked in Foreman John Boward's gang. This gang consisted of Thomas McAnnenney, James McKenna, Jeremiah O'Brien, and Devine. For ten days they have been engaged in removing the overhead wires strung along Fourth avenue, which were rendered useless by the storm of Jan. 27, and are bring taken down,by order of the Mayor. They are all dead. Shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday morning the gang began work at Twenty-first street and Fourth avenue. The line is on the west side. The poles are, about fifty feet high, and they carry 110 wires, there being eleven gross arms on each pole with ten wires on each cross arm. On the opposite side of the avenue runs an aerial circuit of the United Electric Light and Power Company. It comes up out of the subway at Twenty-third street and continues down the avenue in the air. This cir-cuit crosses from the northeast corner of Fourth avenue and Twenty-first street to the drug store of Fred Haas, on the southwest

The Secretary being satisfied from the evidence that this statement is true, has dismissed the examiner and has directed the Appraiser to instruct his officers, that it is their duty simply to appraise articles reported to them by the inspectors whose duty it is to examine baggage. The Secretary adds that it is the purpose of the department to see that the irevention of smuggling are faithfully executed, and officers of the customs who have no sympathy with such purpose are unfit to remain in the public service.

Lawyer Eichler Accused of Blackmail. John Eichler, a lawyer, of 118 St. Mark's place, was in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday in answer to a summons obtained by Otto Doepfner, a druggist of Third avenue and blackmail. Doepfnes says that on April 6 or 7 George Meyer came to his drug store, and after making a purchase said, "My daughter A day or two after another man came in and said that as Doepfner was rich and Mayor poor, the matter ought to be settled. On April 9 a letter came from Lawyer Eichler, requesting Doepfner to call at his office at 7 P. M. in reference to the Mayor matter without fall, otherwise criminal proceedings would be begun. The druggist went with a friend, and after learning from the lawyer that the matter could be hushed up for a money consideration. Doepfner said he was innocent of the charge and would not pay a cent. A few days after some one tried to gat a warrant in the Yorkville Court for Doepfner's arrest, but it was retused. Revor's daughter is only 6 years old. Eichler was paroled in the custody of his counsel for examination. A day or two after another man came in and

Congressman Mason Says It Must Be Harrison.

PITTEBURGH, April 28.—Congressman William E. Mason of Chicago, who passed through this city to-day, had this to say about the national political situation: "The West wants President Harrison renominated, and the West will have him renominated, and flip West will have him renominated. It is jule to talk of other conditions. The policy of his Administration has been endorsed by the Republican party from Maine to California. The East, of course, wants to name the President, but the West has become the political centre, and it will have its way. The present tour of Fresident Harrison has shown him to the people in his true light, and he is to day the most popular man in the United States."

to arrive Louisa took out a cigarette. There was only one match in the pen, and that was in the possession of Miss Griffin. She offered to give up the match for half the cigarette, but Louisa wouldn't consent to that plan. Nelly wouldn't give the match for nothing, and Louisa picked up a soun water bottle which was lying on the floor and flung it at the Griffin woman, striking her on the mouth and inflicting a painful wound. The two women began to light with their fists, but were separated by Officer Armstrong. Justice Taintor fined them $10 each for intoxication, and held the Lynch woman for trial on a cliarge of assault.

MONET FOR THE COME STRIKERS. SCOTIDALE, Pa., April 28.—Peter Wise, District Master Workman, to-day returned from Columbus, and it is claimed that he brought with him several thousand dollars to distribute among the needy miners and cokers, and that 8-hour strike will not occur and that more war. The strikers are jubilant at the outcome of the Columbus meeting, and some say that the 8-hour sale is not wanted anyhow. The 8-hour strike would not affect the coke region S-hour strike would not affect the coke region as to hours, because very few of the men work longer than sight hours and some do not put in that much time. Very few work by the day. More men are reported as 'having gone to work to-day than on any day since the strike began. The greatest increase is at Adelaide, where sixty extra men are said to be at work, with Morewood a good second, where ten is the number of new men, Increases are reported from nearly all the works. The McClure people say the Painter rilant will be running full before the end of the week. Manager Lynch of the Frick Company says he had a car load of new men, to-day, but would not say He did not feel well, and the policeman told him he had better go home, or he would be robbed. To insure the safety of his property he handed the policeman his wallet, containing a draft and money to the value of $2,900 and his watch and chain. The policeman told him to call at Jefferson Market at 8 o'clock on Tuesday and get his property. He wanted the Justice McMahon told the complainant to wait until the morning's business was completed, but that did not satisfy Father Briody, and ne talked loudly and incoherently of the impossibility of obtaining justice anywhere on earth. Justice McMalon sent to 8t, Joseph's Lynch of the Frick Company says he had a car load of new men to-day, but would not say where they came from as he expects as many more from the same place.

The operators seem to be getting out all the coke necessary to supply the trade. If they can continue to do so they will hold out against the men. The prospects for the men are not favorable. Many big iron miles are running only on short time, and that prevents the coke market from becoming brisk.

and ne talked loudly and incoherently of the impossibility of obtaining justice anywhere on earth. Justice McMainon sont to St. Joseph's Church, three blocks away, and one of the assistant priests returned with the messenger. He had a talk with Father Briody, and said that he was undoubtedly a priest.

The Catholic directory, which contains the name of every priest in good standing in the United States, does not mention Thomas Briody of Minneapolis. The priest said that he was acquainted with some of the members of Thomas Briody's family and would look after his welfare for the present. He did not think Father Briody was intoxicated, and Father Briody said he had not tasted liquor in six years. The two priests left the court arm in arm and walked to St. Vincent's Hospital, where the Sisters persuaded Father Briody to take an opiate and go to bed.

Sergeant toombes sent the story to Inspector Byrnes, and one of the Inspector's men went to the hospital, to learn by whom the alleged missing check had leen drawn. The detective was informed that Father Briody was out of his mind, and could answer no questions. There is no Irish National Bank of Minneapolis least Thursday. His baggage was still at the station. The checks for it were in his pocket. Each of the four policemen whom Father Briody might have met at the place he mentions says no one intrusted money to him on Monday night.
